

.

---

From: Khan, Annie (DPH)
Sent: Thursday, February 02, 2012 1:36 PM
To: Glazer, Lisa (DPH)
Cc: Corbett, Kate (DPH); Medina, Nicole (DPH)
Subject: Courses

Per your request, see the following website for course available for forensics.

I start with WVU programs and expanded outside per the recommendation of a colleague. I have used my vaca/pers time to further my knowledge in the drug field. I have not listed all my course because some were not relevant to drug chemistry.

West Virginia University for Forensics are non-credit classes: Those classes are great intro, if you are a forensic major, it is info you already know.

Dept of Justice for California Criminalistics Institute for credit class: courses may range from $300 to $800. Some of those class are online and others require you to go to Cali.

May want to try NEAFS, ACS, SRR and other organizations/companies, they have workshops at the meetings as well. You will have to pay a fee. Most free courses are sales pitch, and only give you general information.

Hope this helps.

Annie